Harry M. Miller

It is with great sadness LPA acknowledges the passing of famed promoter, theatrical producer, publicist and media agent Harry M. Miller.

Harry died peacefully on Wednesday 4 July, with his long-term partner Simone Logue, daughters Justine, Brook and Lauren, and their mother Wendy by his side. He was aged 84.

Born in New Zealand before moving to Australia in 1963, Miller promoted early tours from Louis Armstrong, The Rolling Stones and The Beach Boys, and launched the career of Marcia Hines, who he discovered at 16.

He produced the successful, and controversial, stage production of Hair in 1969, Jesus Christ Superstar in 1972 and The Rocky Horror Show in 1974.

As a celebrity agent and manager, he represented figures including TV stars Graham Kennedy and Barry Humphries, racing trainer Gai Waterhouse, fashion entrepreneur Maggie Tabberer, Big Brother contestants, Lindy Chamberlain and Judy Moran. He also negotiated the "cash for comment" deals for broadcaster Alan Jones.

LPA would like to extend our sincerest condolences to Harry's family, friends and colleagues.

The funeral arrangements are still to be confirmed.

The family has asked people to make donations to Dementia Australia and the Salvation Army in lieu of flowers.
