

We will be releasing a Report Card and Media Statement early next week, once we have assessed the commitments announced by the major parties.

GREENS POLICY – 'A Creative Australia'

'A Creative Australia' outlines five key areas to support the growth of the creative economy and value the contributions art and artists make to Australian society:

- Commissioning of a 'Living Arts' fund to offset artists' historically low incomes.
- Establishing and investing $10 million a year in a Creativity Commission to help Australia transition from STEM thinking to STEAM thinking.
- Investing in Australian content and creativity, including local content quotas for streaming services and a $50 million per annum Content Creator Fund.
- Creating and committing $150 million over four years for an artistic partnership programto put working artists in classrooms alongside teachers and students in order to encourage young people's creativity and career aspirations.
- Investment in the development of Australia's video game industry, including a new $100 million Games Investment & Enterprise Fund.

LPA IN THE MEDIA

LPA recently wrote an opinion piece for The Music, outlining our strong commitment to Australian live music. The opinion piece reiterates the need to support new Australian content, drive industry development and job creation for our $2.5 billion live performance industry.

Evelyn Richardson Chief Executive, Live Performance Australia
